

THE GRAND AVENUES – A BIOGRAPHY

The Grand Avenues are a female-fronted 4-piece, playing a variety of covers from Texas, Blondie, P!nk, Skunk Anansie, Alanis Morissette, The Go-Gos, etc. as well as some fabulous versions of more up to date songs from Billie Eilish & Miley Cyrus (Bad Guy, Flowers, etc.) and a couple of mashups to change the feel, covering all genres from Ska to Pop.

Song-choice was imperative to allow the band to offer something no one else did and make their performances stand out.

Built from the embers of unique surf-dudes James Watt & the Avenues, Andy, Billy and Jim have been reunited with Sophie McDonald who adds a unique singing voice and keyboards to a rock-solid backing band.

The Avenues are also helping renew Sophie's huge catalogue of self-penned songs, written over the years to give The Grand Avenues another route into the differing types of performance locations.
