

ROWSIE

LISTEN

ROWSIE sound like a car crash between Wilco and Sonic Youth while listening to the best indie rock mixtape you made for a boy/girl who left you. The band are a former factory worker from New York, an English baroque pop singer-songwriter, a Canadian filmmaking composer and a London jazz musician who got together in the summer of 2021 to play,

Main man Richard Rothenberg moved to London from the USA five years ago and through Sixty Sixty Sounds on Denmark Street he met drummer Jess 'the roller' Rollason. Next he met producer and writer Alan D Boyd who was writing with Vaccines guitarist Freddie Cowan. Boyd brought in Kent's finest baroque pop songwriter and lead guitarist Holly Henderson.

ROWSIE are playing shows in and around London. Their first single, Fertile Fields/Liverpool Girl, is out on on Ivy RecRods and available from BandCamp.

In May 2022 they will travel to Mexico to play and record.

Email: RowsieBand@gmail.com

Socials: @RowsieBand

Listen: SoundCloud

Watch: Vimeo

